John Hunt Morgan Raid Commemorative Tour

Saturday, July 13, 2013, 150 years and one day since Morgan's Confederates rode through the area we will travel.

On July 8, 1863, Confederate Brigadier General John Hunt Morgan and two thousand cavalymen crossed the Ohio River into Indiana. They crossed from Brandenburg, Kentucky using two captured steamboats. For six days the raiders rode through southern Indiana. Morgan and his men had conducted earlier raids, but this would be remembered as his Great Raid of 1863. It also was the only major military activity in Indiana during the Civil War.

Date: Saturday, July 13, 2013

Time: Registration starts at 8:15 a.m. and tour will end at 4:00 p.m.

Location & Parking: USDA Service Center in Hanover, Indiana (at the corner of SR 56 & SR 62)

Highlights of the Tour

Reenactment by the Vernon Greys unit on Vernon's defense against Morgan.

Participants will enter the former Jefferson Proving Ground now Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge. This area is typically restricted to the public. You will have the opportunity to see where Morgan's men traveled. It still looks very similar to what it might have looked like in 1863.
